

Skills Demystified

THURSDAY 9 FEBRUARY 2012
WSP, 3 WHITE ROSE OFFICE PARK, LEEDS

SYNOPSIS OF THE DAY

The day will include contributions from the following organisations;

Cogent Sector Skills Council / NSAPI - New Technical Apprenticeship Service together with other available programmes.

HCF – The continuing success of CATCH.

BASF -will give an insight into their training initiative that they have set up on their Bradford and Grimsby sites in conjunction with NSAPI.

Cogent Sector Skills Council / NSAPI - Foundation Degree and Process Safety Management for Senior Executives at the University of Hull.

University of Huddersfield – Business engagement, interaction between the University and business for industry specific skills development.

Intelligent Formulation Ltd – Development of a formulation training programme for business.

Unilever – winners of the British Aerosol Manufacturers' Association (BAMA) awards for their CRS Training programme tell us how they succeeded.

The BAMA Judges said:

"Thoroughly professional, comprehensive programme, successfully matching a need".

"Awesome – every company should be engaged in this type of activity... leadership in action".

"A brilliant example of securing business needs over the next decade".

THEN

Moving forward – A discussion session where we will explore the issues surrounding the topic of the first step to training, covering subjects such as:-

Employer needs - provider opportunities.

Barriers to progress.

Funding opportunities.

What next?

For the full Programme of the Day please go to the home page of the YCF website www.ycf.org.uk

Join the YCF Skills Group on LinkedIn.

